

FMPR-001

3.9 pound limestone slab

Released on an outdoor patio at 1012 North Oakley Blvd to the larger public of Chicago, IL at 12pm on April 28, 2015 in a diluted solution of muriatic acid. Wind conditions at time of release were NNE 8mph. Release will continue until the record has been fully liquidated and disseminated.

The record was selected on an exploratory trip in February 2015 to a nonoperational quarry near the confluence of the Sag Outlet and the Des Plaines Outlet from historic Lake Chicago.

While this release will initially be available only in the Chicago area, eventually air currents will disperse the record to an even wider public, albeit in lower concentrations.
